*METODIČKA TEORIJA I PRAKSA / METHODOICAL THEORY AND PRACTICE

The paper entitled: .....

Is hereby submitted to the journal Methodical Theory and Practice for publication.

The authors of the paper fulfil EACH of the following conditions:

1. Contribute to the idea, plan, data collection, analysis and interpretation;
2. Write a paper or critically correct its substantial intellectual content; and
3. In the end, improve the version intended for publication.

Every author is responsible for the relevant part and/or parts of the paper, its content, as well as for any potential conflict of interests.

Those who do not fulfil the above-given criteria should be listed separately (with their previous written consent) in the acknowledgements.

Plagiarism: The authors must be certain about having written a completely original paper and in case they have used the paper and/or works of other authors, they must ensure everything has been properly cited or stated. Since plagiarism is possible in many different manners, the authors agree that plagiarism in every form is unethical and unacceptable. The authors hereby state that the paper submitted to the journal Methodical Theory and Practice has not been plagiarized in any form.

STATEMENT

The undersigned hereby state the following:

1. This is an original paper and it does not violate the copyright or any other ownership rights of third parties, it has neither been submitted for publication in any other journal nor previously published;
2. By publishing this paper, the signed author(s) transfers/transfer the exclusive right to publication (copyright) for the above-mentioned text in the journal Methodical Theory and Practice. If the editorial board of a journal in Serbia or abroad wants to publish this paper either as a reprint or a translation, or in electronic form in any language, that editorial board must first ask for the consent of the Editorial Board of the Methodical Theory and Practice. The Editorial Board will approve the request after consulting the authors of the paper and with the request that the footnote at the beginning of the text should inform that the paper was first published in the journal Methodical Theory and Practice, along with the accurate and complete bibliographical reference which, in addition to the author's name, the title under which the paper was published, the name of the journal, the volume and issue, the year of publication and pagination, should also include the DOI. The authors agree that the data about the paper published in the Methodical Theory and Practice, as well as the paper itself on the whole, can be published via academic databases and social networks that serve for dissemination of scientific results (e.g. ResearchGate, Academia.edu etc.), and that data about the published paper, together with the given link and DOI, can be published on other, non-specialized social networks.
